At the University of Aberdeen’s Business School, we understand that technology can enhance learning at many levels, and are committed to ensuring that our students benefit from this. At the same time, we think that technology alone is not enough, and that at the heart of learning lies communication and interaction at a personal level – people talking to people.

We call the coming together of the latest technologies with increased levels of communication and interaction Supported Online Learning.
WHAT DOES SUPPORTED ONLINE LEARNING MEAN FOR ME?

ONLINE LEARNING. REAL WORLD INFLUENCE.
The MBA (Global) is among the first of a new breed of online MBAs which will transform executive education in the years to come.

The University of Aberdeen MSc Finance provides students with the combination of academic knowledge and professional training that equips them with the skills needed to succeed in financial management.
The constantly evolving requirements of employers, the changing demands of students, and the revolutionary changes caused by waves of new technologies have been met by a willingness by the best business schools to change the what, the how, and (increasingly) the where they teach.

Andrew Main Wilson
Chief Executive of the Association of MBAs
A NEW BREED OF MBA

Rapidly changing digital technologies are transforming markets and business practice across the globe. They are also enabling levels of learning, communication and interaction that are far superior to anything that takes place in a lecture theatre or classroom. At the same time, the very nature of business is being fundamentally changed by disruptive theories which are challenging traditional leadership and management thinking.

The University of Aberdeen’s Business School recognises that these changes need to be reflected not only in the content of its online programmes, but in how they will be delivered.

DISRUPTIVE INNOVATION

The MBA (Global) recognises that traditional management theory is not enough to sustain and grow business in the current climate: business is being disrupted by new models which have the potential to impact negatively on organisations who cannot respond quickly enough.

Therefore, to future proof organisations, successful management needs to be able to implement creative and innovative approaches. The MBA (Global) recognises this and challenges students to think beyond established models to drive real change.
GLOBAL NETWORK

We also appreciate how important the global perspective is to the success of modern business. The MBA (Global) provides an international experience, as students interact and collaborate online with a diverse cohort of students from different backgrounds, cultures; of different ages and with a variety of expertise.

Alongside your studies, you will build an international network of peers and develop a global digital footprint, benefiting both you and your employer.
NEW TECHNOLOGIES

The MBA (Global) recognises the growing impact of digital technologies on global business.

Studying online means you will constantly work with the communication technologies that are driving modern business.

By embedding these technologies into the learning experience to replicate real-life business in a global context, you will build confidence and familiarity with the tools needed to engage in today’s modern business environment.

INCLUSION OF SALES

With the theory and practice of selling at its core, the MBA (Global) will teach you how to translate disruptive thinking into real sales results. Unlike other MBAs, this programme will enable you to develop the techniques required to sell the organisation, its products and yourself.
WHY STUDY AN MBA?

The MBA is the world’s most popular postgraduate qualification; and for a reason. It is the one qualification that time and again has been proven to advance careers and enhance earnings – it’s as simple as that. The benefits of having an MBA are many – here are a few:

INCREASE YOUR EARNING POTENTIAL

The MBA enables you to differentiate yourself in a crowded employment and promotion market. Achieving an MBA demonstrates your wider capabilities, commitment and initiative.

In addition to enhancing your career prospects, an MBA has been proven to increase your earning potential: According to Forbes, MBA graduates are likely to experience:

- A 50% increase in their pre-MBA salary
- A salary which is 40% greater than those with a business degree and up to 95% more than those holding a Liberal Arts qualification
- An increase of up to 80% over their post-MBA starting salary after five years

AN ELITE, INTERNATIONAL NETWORK

Become part of a unique global network which enables you to enter an exclusive club, to break down barriers and enter an elite business group which consists of business professionals from a wide range of backgrounds but who have one thing in common – each holds an MBA qualification.

BE AN ASSET TO YOUR COMPANY

Choosing to study online demonstrates your commitment; it shows that you are an individual who is prepared to seek alternatives; one who has taken charge of their life. Choosing online study shows not only that you have initiative, but that you are organised, efficient, and flexible – all qualities that are highly prized by employers and clients.

As you progress through the University of Aberdeen Online MBA (Global) and become increasingly confident when applying your new acquired knowledge in the workplace, you will become recognised for your competency and expertise and will naturally assume leadership roles as and when required. You will also find that you are the logical choice for senior management positions as these become available.

- MANAGING CHANGE

BLOCK 4
PERSONALISE YOUR MBA:
- Entrepreneurship
- OR Consultancy
- OR Enterprise
PERSONALISING THE MBA

Once you have developed the fundamental skills required in all areas of business practice, such as leadership, project management and marketing, you will have the opportunity to personalise the MBA to suit your own aspirations and professional circumstances by choosing from one of three pathways: Entrepreneurship, Enterprise and Consultancy.

ENTREPRENEURSHIP

Entrepreneurship is a key driver behind the global economy. Entrepreneurs create wealth and jobs within societies and their success often leads to the development of sustainable businesses. For many, entrepreneurship can also be a ‘lifestyle’ choice; it allows you to pursue a lifelong goal and be your own boss. In this course you will be required to design, develop and implement your own business idea. We will coach you through the stages needed to launch and develop your own business or social enterprise.

ENTERPRISE

You will compete alongside your fellow students in one of our versatile, experiential business simulation programmes. Our simulations will challenge you to put the knowledge and expertise you have developed to date to deliver and implement a strategy to address a business challenge.

CONSULTANCY

Consultancy involves advising clients on strategy, planning and problem solving. Top consultancy firms hire more MBA graduates than almost any other type of employer because an MBA programme is designed to cultivate business expertise that empowers you to provide profound business insight. In this course you will undertake a management consultancy project that will require you to draw on all of the skills and expertise you have developed over the course of the programme. You also have the option to apply your learning to a business you are working with or apply for a consultancy internship.
HOW WILL I BE ASSESSED?

All of our courses are assessed entirely by coursework. We believe that assessment should be an integral part of your learning and allow you to use your knowledge, skills and experience in context. There are three types of assessment, each of which will mirror real-life professional practice:

THEORY INTO PRACTICE
Critique and adapt a new theory or framework in your own professional context.

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT
Reflect on your learning experience and acquired knowledge to develop your management skills.

GROUP CHALLENGES
Address business challenges and devise innovative solutions by working collaboratively in teams.
